The Commissioner's speech followed immediately after President Madison of the Board of Aldermen had asserted that there was the such vituperation of the Police Department, and that his brass goods should be fittingly recognized by its supporters, whether Captains, the Mayor, or the Police Commissioner.

No Tom or Tis this, or Charley and Patrick that was going to get his scalp, the Commissioner said. There were only three ways in which he could be gotten rid of, he declared. He could be removed by the Mayor or the Governor, he said. He didn't think he could quit. He didn't think he could stand for any punishment, he said. The more aimed against him, the more he stood up. There wasn't any great crowd down at the present.

George Bingham referred to the introduction at yesterday of the Board of Aldermen, whose promise stated the Police Commissioner had said that he couldn't handle the job. He had fallen down yesterday when asked that $500,000 with which to buy the number of men from 10 P. M.
